Consistent with House report language, OMB assumes that these provisions rescind emergency funding provided in P.L. 104-208. CBO assumes the rescissions are of non-emergency appropriations provided in P.L. 104-208.
Technical Outlay Estimating Differences:

OMB assumes a faster spendout of these emergency funds than does CBO.
Federal Emergency Management Agency:

Scorekeeping Differences:
Interior Department:
Bureau of Land Management:
Management of lands and resources.....	1	1	---	---
Oregon and California land grants.....	3	2	---	1
Consistent with House report language, OMB assumes that these provisions rescind emergency funding provided in P.L. 104-208. CBO assumes the rescissions are of non-emergency appropriations provided in P.L. 104-208.
Minerals Management Service:
Royalty and offshore minerals.....	-3	-2	---	-1
CBO estimates that $3 million in additional spending would result from the probability of increased receipts credited to the account. Consistent with the assumptions in the FY 1999 Budget, OMB assumes that additional funding would be offset entirely by additional receipts.

Agriculture Department:
Commodity Credit Corporation rescission.....	4	1	---	2
CBO scores a rescission of $4 million for the Conservation Farm Option Program. Consistent with the baseline assumptions included in the FY 1999 Budget, OMB scores $250 thousand.
Interior Department:
Section 3009 - Prohibition on issuance of final rule on royalties.....	15	15	---	---
This section prohibits the issuance of a final rule with respect to the valuation of crude oil for royalty purposes. OMB estimates a revenue loss of $15 million. CBO estimates there would be no revenue loss.
Health and Human Services:
Health Resources and Services rescission.....	---	4	---	6
Consistent with FY 1999 Budget assumptions (no funds would be outlayed in this account), OMB does not score any outlay savings for this rescission.
Health Care Financing Administration:
State children's health insurance fund.....	---	5	---	25
Section 4001 of the Act extends the availability of these program funds through FY 1999. CBO scores outlay savings. OMB does not score savings because the extension of the availability of funds does not change HCFA actuaries' estimates of CHIP expenditure patterns reflected in the FY 1999 Budget baseline.
Treasury Department:
Information technology investments rescission.....	---	---	---	-21
Consistent with FY 1999 Budget assumptions, OMB scores outlay savings of $21 million associated with this rescission in FY 1999. CBO assumes no outlay savings for this rescission.

NOTES

<sup>1</sup> FY 1998 and FY 1999 limits are the limits included in the Preview Report that was transmitted to the Congress on February 6, 1998. They include: enacted emergency appropriations, released contingent emergency appropriations, and other adjustments permitted under the Budget Enforcement Act (BEA) of 1997.

The spending limits will change to include additional adjustments permitted by the BEA (e.g., emergency appropriations, cancellations made under the Line Item Veto Act) when OMB submits its Sequestration Update Report. The FY 1999 Non-Defense Discretionary budget authority limits do not include the conversion of transportation obligations limitation to discretionary budget authority. This change is contingent upon consultation with the Congress.

<sup>2</sup> Pursuant to Section 1024(b) of P.L. 104-130, the Line Item Veto Act, the discretionary spending caps would be adjusted in the sequester report following ten calendar days (excluding Sundays) after the expiration of the time period (30 calendar days of session) for expedited congressional consideration of a disapproval bill for a special message containing a cancellation of discretionary budget authority.

<sup>3</sup> Previously-reported amounts for cancellations C-97-4 through C-97-41 (FY 1998 Military Construction Appropriations Act) and C-97-56 (FY 1998 Treasury and General Government Appropriations Act) have been restored.
